Aggression Is Charged To U.S. By Soviet Russia

Newspaper Pravda Gives First Idea Of Soviet Attitude

By NATALIA RENE
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, June 28.—Soviet Russia accused the United States of aggression in the Pacific today and the Communist press stepped up its demand for unification and "liberation" of Germany.

An article in the Navy newspaper Red Fleet spoke of the "growing determination of the German people to fight for peace and unity." It added:

"The German people understand as never before that fundamental and vital interests can be safeguarded only as the result of restoration of the unity of Germany, liberating the country from the Anglo-American imperialists."

First Soviet Reaction

The first official Soviet reaction to American intervention in Korea and President Truman's announced intention to protect Formosa against Chinese Communists was given in the newspaper Pravda.

The official organ of the Russian Communist party charged the Americans showed their disregard for international law and asked "Have they gone too far?"

Pravda made no mention of any possible Soviet counter action.

Earlier the Soviet-controlled Berlin radio asserted the danger of war for Europe has "become acute" as a result of the Korean situation.

In London official British circles regarded the immediate Soviet reaction to the American measures as the best evidence that Moscow had thoroughly canvassed the potential results before the invasion of South Korea was started.

Takes Several Days

(These quarters pointed out that it usually takes at least two or three days of official reaction to come through Pravda on events of such consequence.)

Pravda said in an editorial that President Truman's order sending American air and naval forces into action against North Korean Communists.

Great Britain's Naval Forces Will Join U.S.

(BULLETIN)

LONDON, June 28.—(INS)—Prime Minister Attlee announced today that the British government has decided to place naval forces in Japanese waters at the disposal of the United States to support southern Korea.

Attlee told the House of Commons that the naval dispositions will be made immediately.

The action is in line with a resolution adopted by the United Nations Security Council calling upon the signatories to cooperate in crushing the Communist invasion of South Korea on the grounds it is a threat to world peace.

In reply to a question by former Prime Minister Winston Churchill about British strength in Japanese waters, Attlee said:

"I think our forces are almost the same as those of United States naval forces."

The offer was transmitted to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters from Singapore by the naval chief, Sir Patrick Brind.

Correspondent Gives Account Of Flight Over Korean Battle Area

Richards describes the plight of these Americans, without food, and quotes their report of the shooting down of six American planes.)

(L. N. S. Special Correspondent)

FUKUOKA, Japan, June 28.—The North Korean Communists captured Seoul and Kimpo airport today and drove farther south under the counter-blows of American planes, six of which were unofficially reported shot down during the day.

The South Korean government, led by President Syngman Rhee, withdrew from Suwon, 22 miles south of Seoul, and fled toward the southeast Korean coast.

U. S. Ambassador John J. Muccio and one of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's advance Echelon officers, Brig. Gen. John Church, were last reported awaiting a plane somewhere near Suwon, hoping to catch up with the Rhee government.

Over War Theater

This correspondent flew over the Korean war theater through the day in a U. S. Army plane from Itazuke air base near Fukuoka in southern Japan.

The fall of Kimpo airport, 15 miles northwest of Seoul, must have occurred very suddenly after our plane left Japan. The plane flew through extremely heavy weather in an effort to locate the Rhee government. Our orders were to land at Kimpo and we were about to set down there when our pilot was instructed by radio not to land there under any circumstances.

A group of American and Korean soldiers were stationed at the airfield to direct any incoming U. S. planes elsewhere. They re-

TRUCKS GO OVER EMBANKMENT

Two trucks, one a tractor-trailer, became crumpled steel when they collided and rolled down an embankment into a deep ravine Tuesday afternoon. The accident occurred on the Ellwood-Portersville road near the Curry-Young tip. The heavy dump truck seen in the picture (left) was loaded with coal at the time of the accident. The trailer had a load of steel. Driver of the tractor-trailer, Gaylord Wimer of Rose Point, was pinned in the cab of his truck for some time before he could be extricated. Both drivers were taken to the Ellwood City hospital.

Reveal U.S. Made Appeals To Russia To Halt Attack

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, L. N. S.)

PARIS, June 28.—Authoritative diplomatic sources disclosed today that the United States government made three separate diplomatic appeals to Russia to call off the northern Korean attack before America intervened.

Described in diplomatic parlance as "demarches," the appeals were said to have been made thru the American embassy in Moscow to the Soviet government before President Truman issued orders for air and naval forces to aid the south Koreans.

Ignored Appeals

According to diplomatic sources in Paris, the Soviets completely ignored the appeals, making no reply whatsoever.

International News Service also learned that the explanation given western European governments by American officials for Mr. Truman's decision to act before Tuesday's security council meeting to impose sanctions resulted from Washington's fear that the Russians might suddenly attend the council meeting and veto punitive action.

Russia Not Ready

The Washington correspondent of the newspaper Paris-Presse said that Mr. Truman acted after receiving "reports from American intelligence services operating behind the iron curtain giving assurances Russia was unable to make war at present."

The same newspaper said editorially that American intervention against the invasion of south Korea by northern Korea communists "completely changes the international situation."

The newspaper added:

"The American government has chosen between the spirit of Munich and the spirit of resistance to totalitarian aggression."

"The United Nations organization has found its policeman."

Government Moves

Shortly before our plane returned tonight to the Itazuke base, I received a radio report that the Rhee government had moved 65 miles southeast from Suwon to Taegu on the main route to Pusan and the Korean Peninsula's southeast tip opposite Japan's southwest corner.

Ambassador Muccio and Brig. Gen. Church apparently were still in the area of Suwon or somewhere north of that point when we flew over the Korean battlefronts. At that time, the Commun-

Gaylord Wimer, aged 27 years, of R.D. 6, is in the Ellwood City hospital, suffering from serious injuries sustained when his loaded truck went over a 50-foot embankment, on Route 488, two and a half miles west of Portersville, at 1:20 p. m. Tuesday. Wimer sustained a puncture wound of the back, general contusions and abrasions, and is also suffering from shock.

Wimer was travelling west down a grade, and collided with the rear of a smaller truck, driven by Edward T. Oczkowski, of R.D. 1, Ellwood City, as it attempted to make a right turn into the Garner Coal company. Both vehicles went through a guard rail and plunged down over the embankment. Oczkowski escaped injury, State Police who investigated the accident reported.

The condition of Mr. Wimer was reported as fair at the hospital this morning.

Speed Limit Is Too High On Turnpike

HARRISBURG, June 28.—(INS)—The 70-mile-an-hour speed limit on the Pennsylvania turnpike is "much too high for safety," State Police Commissioner C. M. Wilhelm declared last night.

"Human beings just are not equipped to drive automobiles at 70 miles an hour for such great distances as 160 miles," Wilhelm told a joint meeting of the New York and Harrisburg advisory boards of the Keystone Automobile club.

"Drivers are bound to get tired and weary, and then accidents happen. There were 39 fatalities in accidents on the turnpike last year—far, far too many."

TOKYO, June 28.—(INS)—The British freighter Reinhold put in at Fukuoka, Japan, today with 682 American and other evacuees from Korea.

Expect France And Britain To Pledge Aid

U.N. Gives Approval To Sanctions Move Against N. Koreans

By PIERRE J. HUSS

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 28.—Britain and France were expected today at the U. N. to pledge naval and air units to fight alongside American sea and air forces ordered into action against North Korean Communists by President Truman.

Australia probably also will offer its fighting men in applying military sanctions against the North Korean invaders.

This forenoon the U. N. military staff committee, normally comprising the big four powers although Russia walked out two months ago, met in New York to consider means of coordinating military assistance to the South Koreans in response to the U. N. call.

Li. Gen. W. D. Crittendenberger, U. S. Representative on the military group, held conferences with other powers on possible collaboration against the Communists.

Under Truman's Orders

However, U. N. observers pointed out that for the present the American warships and Air Force units in action in Korea remain

Husband Dies In Attempt To Save His Wife

JERMYN, Pa., June 28.—(INS)—Two persons burned to death today in a fire which destroyed a combination two-story grocery store and an apartment house at Jermyrn.

Another couple was hospitalized with injuries suffered trying to escape the flames.

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. John Durkin who lived in the second floor of the building. Durkin, 52, died when he tried to save his 47-year-old wife who lay helpless as a result of a broken back suffered in a fall a year ago.

Mrs. James Smallcomb sustained serious injuries when she leaped from the second floor of the burning building and her husband was burned about the head and body. Both were admitted to Carbondale General hospital.

Draft Law To Be Extended

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—Congress will extend for one year today President Truman's authority to draft men and will give him a new power to muster National Guard and reserve troops.

The Communist assault on south Korea swept away all but minor opposition in the senate to the selective service act extension.

The house already has approved the legislation by an overwhelming 315 to 4 vote. It acted on a compromise bill worked out by senate-house conferees which differed drastically from the versions passed by both houses.

The senate votes on that same compromise at 2 p. m. today and armed services committee member declared: "I would think we will have a pretty nearly unanimous vote in favor of the extension."

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky., June 28.—(INS)—A 22-year-old Indiana law student has been found guilty of bludgeoning his 16-year-old pregnant sweetheart to death in an "American tragedy" murder.

Franklin T. Slay smoked a cigarette and showed no emotion yesterday when a Hopkinsville jury convicted him after less than two hours of deliberation.

The jury's finding carried a recommendation of life imprisonment.

Gen. MacArthur Reports Successful Air Strikes

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, L. N. S.)

TOKYO, June 29.—(Thursday)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced early today that U. S. Air Force "combat veterans" unleashed a "successful" series of "offensive" air strikes yesterday against Communist invasion troops, truck convoys and rail points in South Korea.

The North Korean Reds, however, claimed full occupation of Seoul and were disclosed to have seized Kimpo airport, 15 miles northwest of the capital, in a continued drive down the Korean peninsula, supported by flanking amphibious thrusts at both coasts.

General MacArthur, in a mid-night communique comprising his fifth official bulletin on the Korean situation, said:

Fare Increase On Buses Here Being Sought

Application has been made by the Shenango Valley Transportation Company to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission for an increase in bus fares in the New Castle and Sharon districts.

The company asks the new rates be made effective July 31. The increase concerns only adult fares and weekly passes. It does not affect children's fares or transfers.

Six For 50c

Under the proposed increase the price of tokens would go from 8 for fifty cents to six for fifty cents and the weekly passes from $1 to $1.25.

Samuel Friedman, manager of the company said today the reason for the application for increases is the fact that revenues are failing to meet operating costs.

A year ago the company showed a surplus of $39,000. The P. U. C. increased the company's rates to reduce the surplus to zero. The City of New Castle asked for increased service.

New lines were installed Mr. Friedman said, and the $39,000 was eaten up and an additional $30,000.

He called for unity of purpose and action.

Mr. Hoover's statement follows: "When the United States draws the sword there is only one course for our people."

"I have opposed many of our foreign policies but now is not the time to argue origins, mistakes, responsibilities or consequences."

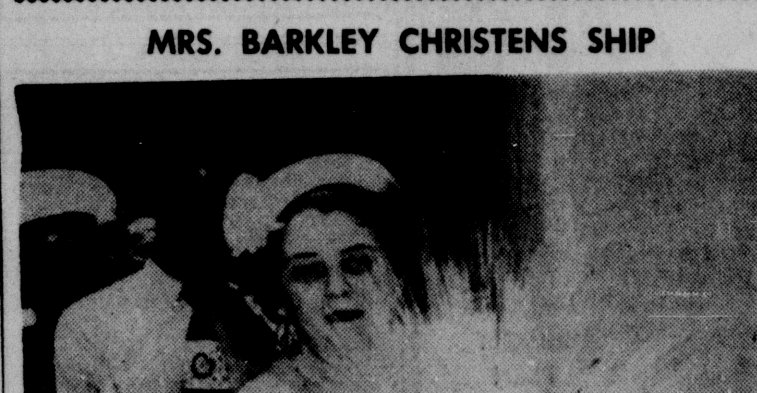

"There is only one way out of such situations as this; that is to win."

The early bird may get the worm, though I have always wondered why, the worm got up before the bird, the bird could have stayed home high and dry. But what this leads to, if it does, is just this little observation, the early bird oftentimes is caught who takes an early June vacation. The sun is high the day is warm, he loads the car and starts his trip, but brother in those piney woods the nights and evenings are a pip. The lake is cold and so is he, which once more leads me on to say, vacations are for late July, it's bright and seventy nine today.

Attempt To Avert Philadelphia Transit Strike

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—(INS)—Representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation Co. and the transport workers union were ordered into a closed-door session by the court today in an attempt to avert Saturday's scheduled transit strike.

President Judge Raymond MacNeille told attorneys and negotiators for the firm and the union to hold a non-stop session until some agreement is reached or until 3 p. m. and then report to the court.

If no agreement has been reached by that time, the judge said, he will then act on the PTC's request for an injunction to prevent the work stoppage.

can war now raging into its fifth day, tentatively admitted the Communist destruction of two grounded American planes and said a third had been damaged.

Unofficial reports that a half dozen U. S. Air Force craft had been knocked out in the first day of the American military intervention to rescue South Korea lacked confirmation.

"Struck Targets"

The Allied supreme commander's dramatic communique declared that units of the U. S. Far East Air Force yesterday "struck targets in southern Korea in support of the United Nations-sanctioned retaliation opposing the Communist-directed attack."

The five-star American general, whose World War II forces smashed across the Pacific to humble Japan, said American bombers and fighters were "directed to targets strategically located within the invaded area" in executing "President Truman's dictum" to give direct aid to South Korea's defenders.

"Combat veterans," said MacArthur's communique, alluding to flyers who saw action in the recent war, "were alerted early Tuesday to check armament and load guns in preparation for Wednesday's offensive which was carried out by the Far East Air Force units."

In the day's bombings, the bulletin continued, "troop concentrations, truck convoys and rail yards in the vicinity of Munsan, northwest of Seoul, were attacked."

"The results were reported as successful," Gen. MacArthur declared.

under President Truman's sole orders, although sanctioned by a security council resolution adopted last Sunday.

Shortly before 11 p. m. last night, the security council concluded a momentous session in its five-year history by a second sanctions resolution offered by the U. S. in three days for unreserved military operation by the 59 U. N. members against the North Koreans.

With Russia absent, the vote was seven to one. Yugoslavia voted against but Egypt and India reserved their vote until they receive instructions from their home governments. Day-long efforts to contact governments failed. They intend to deposit their votes with U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie as soon as received.

In favor were the United States, Britain, France, Norway, Cuba, Ecuador and China.

stroyer in the Pacific, and that no trouble is expected from Soviet submarines.

Asked whether Russia could reserve effective aid to the North Korean Air Force, with planes, ground crews, mechanics and possibly pilots, a high air intelligence officer said carefully:

"I personally do not think the Soviets have that capability in the Far East at present."

Army officers nevertheless considered it likely that U. S. ground forces eventually will be needed in the Korean conflict.

They pointed out that the North and South Korean armies are about equally matched with slightly less than 100,000 each—and said there is "no guarantee" that air and sea support alone will turn the tables on the invading Communists.

Excise Tax Cut Bill May Not Be Acted Upon Now

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—Congress may scuttle both the billion dollar excise tax cut and July 31 adjournment plans as a result of American intervention in the Korean war.

Development in the next month will probably determine what action will be taken.

If the far eastern crisis continues, congress may prolong the session or recess subject to recall by house and senate leader. The latter procedure was used during the war and postwar years.

Congressional leaders are considering both possibilities, but no firm decisions are being made.

Here You Will Find the Ideal Organization....

When asked how long a man's legs should be, Abraham Lincoln replied, "Long enough to reach the ground."

That same simple philosophy applies to organizations offering funeral service. When too large it means costly overhead and the patron pays for that in higher prices; if too small it cannot give the proper service.

At the Boyd Home for Funerals you will find the ideal organization—not too large or too small; old enough to be experienced, but still young in the ideas that mean improved service to our patrons.

EAST BROOK CLUB HAS ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Walter Ryan welcomed members of the East Brook Garden club in her lovely country home at Highland Heights on Tuesday.

Members celebrated the 17th anniversary of the club with a delicious tureen dinner. Places were laid for 13 members and one guest, Miss Frances McDowell. The prettily appointed table was centered with a large birthday cake, surrounded with a dainty corsage for each member. Mrs. Omar Fink was associate hostess for the occasion.

Mrs. John Robinson, president, conducted the business portion of the meeting. The group read the club woman's creed in unison. Mrs. Frank Albion presented an interesting report of the recent meeting of the Lawrence County Garden Council meeting.

Plans were completed for a pilgrimage to be made by the club in July. Roll call, conducted by Mrs. N. M. Ingham, was answered with each member telling of her "First Impression of the Garden Club".

Many floral exhibits were displayed, among them being an elephant-eared magnolia shown by Mrs. W. R. Walton.

The group plans to attend the Garden Council picnic on July 11 at the home of Mrs. Richard Marquis, Wilmington road.

Mr. And Mrs. O. A. Rodgers Celebrate Golden Wedding

MR. AND MRS. O. A. RODGERS

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Rodgers, 1306 Delaware avenue, entertained friends, relatives and neighbors at a delightful "at home" Tuesday in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. The bride and groom of 50 years ago received guests, numbering 150, at their home.

Dainty refreshments were served at a table, centered with a lovely arrangement of roses and smilax, flanked by tapers, the color scheme of gold and white being used. The Misses Maria J. Allen and Grace McNulty, aunts of Mrs. Rodgers, presided at the tea services in the afternoon.

Miss Bess B. Allen, Mrs. C. R. Illick and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds, Mrs. Rodgers' sisters; Mrs. H. H. Stimpel, Mr. Rodgers' sister-in-law, and Mrs. J. E. Rodgers, a sister-in-law, poured in the evening.

Mrs. Myrt Epps, Mrs. Duane Rodgers, the Misses Marjorie Sisley, Allene McCormick, Carol Jenkins and Sandra Rodgers, granddaughters of the couple, and Eleanor and Robalee Burns, grandnieces of Mrs. Rodgers, served as aides.

The couple's children were hosts at a dinner Sunday at an out-of-town inn. At that time Mrs. Rodgers was presented with an orchid from her grandchildren. The honored couple received a number of lovely gifts as mementos of the outstanding day in their lives.

Miss Anna Bertha Allen became the bride of Mr. Rodgers June 27, 1900, at her parents' home, "Beechwood," Harlansburg road, Hickory township. They are the parents of four children.

John W. and Robert O. Allen, Spokane, Wash., Mrs. Rodgers' brothers; Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Illick and son, Charles R. Illick, Jr., Santa Paula, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Horace O. Allen and children and Miss Bessie B. Allen, all of Youngstown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds, Zelenople; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burns and daughters, New Wilmington, were out-of-town guests. Twelve friends and relatives who attended the wedding were present at the golden wedding anniversary celebration.

Pandoras Club Pandoras club members were entertained Tuesday evening in the Sons of Italy club rooms, with Mrs. Frank Palumbo and Mrs. Joseph DeLullo as co-hostesses.

The birthday of Mrs. Angelo Vito was honored and she received a gift. Cards were played and Mrs. Paul Fazzone captured the prize.

Plans for a picnic were discussed for the future. Mrs. Vito Colello, president, gave the invocation, and a delicious lunch was enjoyed later. July 11 is the meeting at Cascade park, with Mrs. Sam Crisci and Mrs. Paul Fazzone as hostesses.

EARL C. MOFFATTS MARK 25th WEDDING

Relatives, friends and neighbors numbering 250 called upon Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Moffatt at their home, 405 Florence avenue, Sunday, June 25, to congratulate them on their silver (25th) wedding anniversary.

A white and silver bridal motif predominated in the decorations for the "open house" celebration. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table, topped by a wedding ring and two turtle doves. White candles in silver candelabra flanked the centerpiece. Mrs. Jack Thomas and Mrs. Leonard Peterson poured and the aides were Mrs. James Speed and Mrs. R. A. Lewis.

Bouquets of roses, peonies and other summer flowers lent a festive air to the Moffatt home.

Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt were married at the Presbyterian church in Butler by Rev. George C. Miller, now a retired minister who lives in Prospect. Unable to be present for the occasion, he and Mrs. Miller sent a lovely letter congratulating the honored couple.

Flash pictures were taken during the day. Four generations of the Moffatt family were represented by Mrs. Moffatt's mother, Mrs. J. L. Grieb, Sr., of Meadville; Mrs. Moffatt, the couple's son William and their grandson, William David.

The principals are the parents of one son, William Moffatt, Erie, who, with his wife and children, William David and Cheryl Lynn, was among those present.

Special guests were Mr. Moffatt's sister, Mrs. Frank Field and her husband and family, of Chicago; his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Moffatt of this city, and their daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Beros of New Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Evans of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. Moffatt's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Grieb of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; her sister, Mrs. Jack Thomas of Zelenople, and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lewis and children, Joan and Jane, of Meadville. Others were present from Slippery Rock, Cleveland, O., Pittsburgh, Beaver Falls, Butler and Erie.

Many lovely gifts, congratulatory messages and flowers will add to the memory of the cherished occasion.

Rounding out the gala event, local American Legion band, accompanied by the Legion senior vice commander-elect, Manning Weller, serenaded the couple. Mr. Moffatt is commander of the local American Legion.

V.F.W. Auxiliary Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the V.F.W., 315, will meet tonight at 8 o'clock in the post rooms on East Washington street. President, Mrs. Rilla Rishel, will be in charge of the meeting.

Power Of U.N. Being Tested

The power of the United Nations was put to its severest test today by the communist invasion of southern Korea and the whole world is wondering whether drastic punishment will be ordered under the terms of the charter.

There is no question that the organization has the constitutional right to impose punishment, known in diplomatic parlance by the name of sanctions.

These can range from a reprimand to the use of force.

Depends On U. S. Attitude

Much depends on the attitude of the United States. Great Britain regards a complete communist victory as a foregone conclusion and is dubious about the south Korean regime's real integrity.

Yet the British could hardly vote against stern measures if the United States demands them. President Truman has made clear that his own attitude is one of complete condemnation. His statement attacking what he termed "lawless" and "willful disregard" of obligations in behalf of peace was one of the strongest ever issued by an American president when the United States was not at war.

Despite all its earnest efforts, however, the United Nations is at a handicap because of the swift passage of events.

The communist program is clear. Its leaders will characterize themselves as liberators and will endeavor to show that the south Korean regime was evil and corrupt.

They also will claim that they have popular support and that opposition came only from the regular army, which Moscow and its followers charge is an instrument of aggression, financed and equipped by the United States.

Blow To U. S. Prestige

No matter what the United Nations may be able to do, the invasion is a heavy blow to American prestige in the far east and may foreshadow an early move against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's remnants on the island of Formosa.

One peculiar aspect of the situation is the amazing speed with which the attack developed.

Despite the fact there is a United States military mission on the Korean peninsula as well as a United Nations group, there seems to have been little or no advance warning.

Yet for months allied observers have been watching all events around the 38th parallel. The attack that came on Sunday was a cry from the isolated border incursions of the past and it seems incredible that some word did not get through of the communist preparations for invasion.

Initial reports were that the south Koreans rallied after the first impact but it seemed hardly likely that sufficient American aid could reach them in time to avert an overwhelming defeat.

Prolonged Diplomatic Struggle

It seems certain that the Korean affair will result in a heavy and

SUCCESS
Success, the business page extols
Is told in terms of profits made
By management that reaches goals
At which the dividends are paid.

In music, he achieves success
Who writes the most appealing song.
In sports, the daily papers stress
The triumphs of the fleet and strong.

But scanning life at fullest length,
From start until the journey ends,
On something more than skill or strength
Man's ultimate success depends.

If stout the home he built has stayed,
Triumphantly has lived the years.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—U. N. Secretary General Lie: "The friendship and support of men and women everywhere are all the more necessary when the world organization and the world itself are going through a crisis."

WASHINGTON—President Truman: "Willful disregard of the obligation to keep the peace cannot be tolerated by nations that support the U. N. charter."

LONDON—Tehi Chang Yun, southern Korean minister to London: "Our only hope of victory now in America giving aid, not only in material but in men."

CLEVELAND—Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis: "We are not training enough people. The financial problems of our medical schools increase with every day that passes."

Folks Of Fame

Oliver Goldsmith, English playwright, novelist, poet and man of letters, was born at Smith-Hill, Ireland, in 1730. He attended Trinity College, Dublin, but did not distinguish himself in learning. After college he tried five or six professions without success. At one time he wandered about Europe playing on his flute, tunes which set the peasants dancing. He was a great gambler and always lost his money. He began his literary career when he was about 30 years old, writing anonymously, but some of his published works were known to be his and brought him some measure of fame. His poem, The Traveller, published in 1764, was the first work to which he put his name. His novel, The Vicar of Wakefield, appeared in 1766. His poem, Deserted Village, was published in 1770. His play, She Stoops to Conquer, was very popular and still is. He was only in his 46th year when he died April 4, 1774.

Anita Stewart is another screen favorite of old silent days. She was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and educated at Erasmus Hall. She, too, started her motion picture work with the old Vitaphone company, and the play was The Girl Phil. She played The Fighting Shepherdess, The Yellow Typhoon, The Invisible Fear, Playthings of Destiny, The Woman He Married, Rosie of the Sea, The Love Piker, and Cain and Mabel were among the pictures in which she starred.

From Me To You

By MESEELL

During the past year Russia has been quick . . . and persistent in telling its story to the world . . . the story that Russia was first in this discovery . . . first in the invention of this item and that item. Leading the world was the Russian story . . . and we sat back and smiled at the preposterous stories.

But today Russia is telling the world that they weren't first in the Korean story . . . they are telling the peoples that the Southern Koreans struck the first blow . . . which means that they are attempting to make people believe that the United States is an aggressive nation . . . calling us warmongers. These words are typical of the type . . . the bullying type that the Russians are today.

Just what the outcome of the present situation will be . . . can't be correctly predicted at this time . . . The Security Council of the U. N. met all day yesterday . . . speeches were made . . . the majority of the nations represented joined with the United States in a resolution to give aid . . . all-out aid to help protect South Korea. The Russian delegation was absent from this meeting because the China delegation was present . . . Russia only recognizes the government of Communist China.

However . . . nothing definite was accepted by the SC . . . voting was held up until today when Egypt and India will make a report . . . and of course today Russia could attend the meetings being held at Lake Success and stir up some real argument. Informed circles believe France and Britain will join the US in sending material aid to Korea.

It's a grave situation . . . and we here can do something to help . . . we can ask God in our prayers to give the leaders of the world the courage to lead us into a peaceful world.

We can ask that we people here . . . we citizens of the United States join with all other God-Loving peoples throughout the world to mend our living that will enable us to be the right things at the right time in order that peace will be a substantial part of everyone's life.

NEW ANGUISH AT THE OLD WAILING WALL

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

One Slightly Comic Result

WASHINGTON, June 28.—The black headlines announcing the Korean invasion with all its ominous potentialities produced one minor and slightly comic result that went almost unnoticed. That was to push off the front pages a piece of political news which might otherwise have caused something of a stir.

That sterling statesman from Maine, Senator Owen Brewster, chose Saturday night and a party rally in Atlantic City, New Jersey, as the occasion to launch a new policy line for the Congressional campaign this fall. Stated in simplest terms, it is to make the Democratic party "war party" and the Republican party the peace party.

Such a policy line has been long and hotly debated in high GOP councils. Brewster and others have argued that the peace appeal was ready-made to fit the desires of an overwhelming majority of the American people.

Opposition Comes

The opposition has come from internationally-minded Republicans such as Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts. They have pointed out that the peace appeal would be in the long run be akin to isolationism, since it would be likely to encourage voters to believe that appropriations for the defense of Western Europe and other steps to contain Communism were inviting war.

But Brewster is a man not easily swayed once he gets an idea in his head. He told a wind-up meeting of state chairmen of 17 eastern states and the members of the Republican National Committee that a Democratic president and a Democratic Congress "are not a good guarantee to keep us out of war."

"In my judgement," Brewster was quoted by the United Press as saying, "peace may be the one dominant issue of this campaign. It is not safe to trust our affairs to those who have had such a conspicuous lack of success in their efforts to keep us out of war. In all our lifetime we have had two Democratic administrations and two world-wide wars. Enough is enough."

Echoed Same Line

Even more significantly, National Chairman Guy George Gabriell, who echoed the same line. He said that for half a century the Republican party has been the party of peace.

The headlines out of Korea a few hours later made this sound a little ludicrous. They showed so clearly that the war party is located in the Communist half of the world where the will to conquest seems to know no limits. The peace party must sound like the party of capitulation.

But apart from these latest defeat all political calculations, the developments in Asia, which can up-lift a "peace party" could become the most potent factor in the fall campaign. That has been clearly realized among certain Democratic as well as the astute leaders. Some of the most astute politicians around the president have been fearful that the GOP would grab the peace side of the issue of peace or war. As one of them put it recently in a policy discussion:

"We've got to start putting a new emphasis on the fact that all our efforts have peace as a goal. There's been too much talk of war. If the Republicans had the sense to come in out of the rain, they would have picked up the peace issue long since."

War between the United States and the Soviet Union could come out of the Korean conflict. There will be forces at home and abroad pushing in that direction. Korea has long been a tension point in a world full of high explosives.

But if this proves to be no more than another battle, and probably a lost battle, in the so-called cold war, then the peace appeal could have a noisy revival. American strength and American prestige have been spread thin in connection with the Truman-Acheson policy of containing Communism everywhere.

Should Ask for More

Or, at any rate, it is spread thin in relation to the degree of American production and American energy that are being devoted to the "strength through containment" attempt. If this is not enough, then plainly the administration should ask for more.

Such a request would not be popular in a campaign year. The Republican opposition could counter with a demand for a reduction in American commitments; preserving our strength here at home; and, above all, inviting peace at the world. This last in particular instead of war by our policy around the world might have an overwhelming appeal to Americans troubled and confused by conflicting voices.

The extreme Roosevelt haters blame the wartime president for inviting the Japs to get the U. S. into World War II. The opposition today may try to put the blame for a well-nigh hopeless cold war on President Truman.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

A scientist who has been experimenting with white mice says he could live to 90 years on a diet of milk and nothing else, but are we mice or men?

And if milk is such an aid to longevity how come more cows aren't drawing old age pensions?

But I hear when the news reached Washington our agricultural economists just shuddered. All that milk and no potatoes.

Anyway we'd probably just shift to a milk economy when the cows would go on strike for shorter bottles and longer rest periods.

It must always be borne in mind that cows stand on the ground and underneath that ground is coal. That makes them cork carriers.

Well, if we do shift to a milk diet as a nation it will make millions of housewives happy. They are tired of answering that nightly question "what's for dinner?"

THE SKIN OF YOUR TEETH
The skin of your teeth does not cause you much trouble because there isn't any.

The skin of the body is a different proposition. It is an organ just as much as the liver or the heart or the stomach.

Perhaps one of its most important jobs is to make use of the sunshine.

The wise boys tell us that it is not necessary to expose the whole body in order to get the benefit of the sunshine. They say that the hands and face absorb as much as is needed.

This is not meant to discourage the girls from displaying as much pulchritude as they desire.

Non, M. Schuman, Non

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—It sounds all right, but French Foreign Minister Schuman's proposal to move several million people out of Europe into other lands need some second-thinking.

The idea is related, but not too closely, to the several post-war efforts to solve the world's ills by juggling the world's population. Among these other plans are the D. P. resettlement by the Western Allies, the use of slave farms by the Russians and the founding of Israel as a homeland for Jews by the Jewish people themselves. Now comes M. Schuman's suggestion that we move the surplus population of Italy and Germany to Brazil, Australia and sparsely-settled islands of the seven seas. In terms of numbers, it is the biggest plan of all. In terms of logic, it is the weakest.

Doesn't Fit Problem
For the Schuman plan doesn't lay hold of the problem it seeks to solve—the problem of over-population. There are about 2.2 billion people on earth, and the Schuman plan won't reduce the total at all. What's more, it won't even reduce the populations of Italy and Germany.

How's that again? Well, it so happens that the laws of human increase are not the laws of arithmetic. There is a large body of literature on this subject, and M. Schuman ought to dip into it. Let us take Italy as an example. The great period of Italian emigration was 1880-1910. Most of the emigrants were young people of the child-raising age, and many of those who stayed home were past the child-raising age. But did the Italian population drop off? It did not, according to Forster's "Italian Emigration in Our Times," the classic work on this subject. The birthrate increased and took care of the loss by emigration. Why? Human nature and national destiny, to give a short answer, just work that way—that's why.

Those On Receiving End
But what about nations which are on the receiving end of immigration floods? Can we expect under the Schuman plan, that Brazil, Australia and the islands will enjoy a long-term population boom? No, indeed. The classic work on this subject is Pearl's "The Natural History of Population." Pearl's research shows that when immigration rises, the native birthrate drops. There is a leveling-off, so that the receiving country eventually has about the same number of people it would have had without the immigration.

As an example here, we may take the U. S., which is the greatest receiver of immigration in history. In the first decade of the 19th Century (1800-1810) there was virtually no immigration. We increased our population 36% almost entirely by native births. But in the first decade of the 20th Century (1900-1910) we had heavy immigration. We increased our population only 21% and only 9.5% of the increase was by native birth. The rest was by immigration. In round figures, for every 9 native American babies in the crib, there were 11 foreigners trotting down the gangplank.

Would Benefit Nobody
It is easy to see from these examples that the Schuman plan would benefit nobody in the long run. Italy and Germany would again become over-populated in a generation or so, other things being equal. Australia, Brazil and the islands would get back to the same birthrate they have now, but the native birthrate would sink.

The Schuman plan won't work for a number of reasons. One reason is that it tries to encompass too great a subject—human nature. Unlike the D. P. resettlement, the Russian slave camps and the founding of Israel, the Schuman plan has no specific and finite goal. The D. P.'s needed homes, the Russians needed slave labor, the Jews of Europe needed a homeland. You can solve such problems because they are realistic. But you can't rewrite the human equation.

This is not to say that there is no solution to the world's over-population. We do not have to accept the fatalistic assumption that mankind will destroy itself by over-breeding. M. Schuman, if he has the Frenchman's wry sense of humor, ought to enjoy delving into the literature of population. It has some delightful paradoxes. One way to adjust the population is to let people alone. It's a fact that the birthrate is lower in densely-settled areas than in the thinly-populated ones. College-grad parents have only half as many children as parents whose education stopped at grade school. Or he could help Germany to get back into successful private enterprise. The American "Who's Who," probably the blue book of success, shows a birthrate for its listees of only 2.1 per family.

M. Schuman seems to be full of good ideas these days. But the idea of juggling the population isn't one of them. It sounds like an easy solution. But only when you ignore the human factors of population.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This being Wednesday, I am half through with my New York Sunday newspaper, and I have a sudden $198,765.43 on things advertised therein.

Among my purchases is a $25,000 diamond necklace, a $23,000 automobile, a $40,000 trip around the world for two in the bridal suite (federal tax not included), a $65,000 house (special price if I act promptly), a $5.98 cigarette lighter and a $1.98 fountain pen.

There are several thousand dollars worth of additional trifles, too numerous and too insignificant to mention here. Some of them cost only two or three hundred dollars.

By the time I get all through with my paper I shall probably have spent close to a half million dollars.

Fortunately, however, I don't have to draw a cent from the bank nor take a nickel out of my pocket.

Because all these treasures that I buy—and I buy them almost every week—never get out of the stores, never reach my home.

By my system of purchasing I not only save a lot of money—but I haven't got—but also avoid a lot of cleaning, repairs and cluttering up.

Yes, I have a lot of fun selecting just what I want and I am sure that I actually enjoy my purchases more than if I really bought them.

By doing what I do, all the choicest things from all over the earth are mine. I can present my wife with precious jewels, with rarest furs, with the costliest dresses.

We can go traveling in beautiful automobiles, by fastest plane, in floating palaces.

We can dine luxuriously wherever we wish, regardless of price. We can live anywhere, in any kind of home, on any kind of social scale.

And we can do all that without ever getting out of our slacks and sneakers, without ever touching our little bank account. We not only keep up with the Joneses, we are way ahead of them.

DO buy everything you can if you can afford it.

My kind of buying would soon put all the merchants into bankruptcy.

But if you can't afford it, don't go around being envious of those who can.

Everybody can't be rich.

But everybody can have imagination, and imagination is a darn site better than an attic full of things you once wanted but which are now collecting cobwebs.

Every once in a while we splurged. We bought this or that, thinking that we couldn't get along without it.

Where are those "treasures" now?

Up in the attic. Down in the cellar. Or perhaps wherever the junkman disposed of them.

The only reminder of many of those "indispensable" acquisitions is the bill with the "paid in full" stamp on it.

In my closet hang many neckties, more clothes than I need, many more pairs of shoes than I have feet.

Do I wear them? For your answer, come up and see me some time.

But I can hardly wait for next Sunday's paper to buy another quarter of a million dollars worth of stuff.

Catholic Day Today In Lawrence County

Today is Catholic Day in Lawrence county. Festivities are being held all day at Cascade Park, and it is estimated that a number of approximately 25,000 Catholics will attend this third annual event.

All depends if the weather man smiles down upon the picnicers, but regardless an elaborate program has been arranged for the entire day.

Reports from Washington, D. C., late last evening stated that the Catholic Day speaker, Michael Mansfield, of the House Foreign Affairs, was one of the committee men to sit in on the conference with President Truman at which time the decision was met to send American reinforcements to the Southern Koreans, in Asia.

The speaker will deliver a timely address. This afternoon he will be entertained at dinner at Hotel New Penn.

In addition to a picnic supper at the park, dancing, fireworks and a concert are scheduled. John Stofick is the Catholic Day chairman.

SCRIPT STUDY OUT-OF-DOORS

Summer theater work means out-of-doors script study for these Westminster College co-eds who gather under their favorite campus tree to go over the lines for "Blythe Spirit" which opens July 10. This is the first year the college has offered summer plays. Left to right are: Bobbie Cloud, Unlontown; Ruth Vogan, Mercer, and Phyllis Williams, Farrell.

Shenango Firemen Going To Parade

Shenango township firemen will go to Frisco this evening to take part in the big parade planned for this evening.

Chief James Holzappel announces that the men planning to participate will assemble at the Shenango township fire hall at 7 o'clock, and will leave in a group from there, picking up the men from the Castlewood district at the Castlewood fire hall later.

Several Small Fires Reported

Fourth ward firemen were called to the rear of 416 E. Washington street, to extinguish burning rubbish, which annoyed neighbors who were washing clothes. Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink reported.

Three other small fires occurred over night, and alarm from Box 44 calling five companies out for a roof fire at the Johnson Bronze Company. Damage amounted to around $25.

No. 5 company was called to the corner of Mill and Reynolds street, Tuesday evening, where a short circuit was found in the auto of Sam Filigenzie, of 103 W. Cherry street. Firemen disconnected the battery. Late in the afternoon an alarm from Box 36 called firemen to the A. Albion grocery at 807 Croton avenue, where a motor on the refrigerator had become overheated.

Legion Holds Over Delegate Election

Action was held over until a special meeting to be called in the near future by Commander Earl C. Moffatt, on several important matters facing the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at the post meeting in the Legion Home last evening.

Among these was the financing of the proposed new addition to the home, the financing of the band's trip to the Philadelphia convention in August, and election of delegates.

Members will receive notification by card on these proposals.

Two Charged With Disorderly Conduct

Captain Willis McMullen of the City Detective Bureau has sworn out information against Guido Filigenzi and Theodore Joseph, before Alderman Brice, Wednesday morning.

The charges against both are disorderly conduct. Filigenzi is also charged with resisting arrest. The arrests resulted from alleged loitering early Wednesday morning in the Long avenue and S. Mill sector. Filigenzi resisted arrest when the cruiser was called, police report.

Alderman Brice set bond at $50 each on the lesser charge and $1000 bond on the charge of resisting arrest, pending a hearing.

Over 15,000 Boy Scouts Are Already At Valley Forge

VALLEY FORGE, Pa., June 28.—(INS)—The lush rolling greens of Valley Forge park, where Washington spent a persevering winter with his tattered colonial forces, blossomed into a city of tents today where 47,000 Boy Scouts will encamp for their 1950 jamboree.

More than 15,000 sprightly youngsters and their leaders already have set up camp at the site, and their numbers are swelling hourly with troops arriving from every state in the union, three American territories and 17 foreign countries.

The jamboree officially gets underway Friday when the scouts' honorary president, Harry S. Truman, arrives on the grounds for a personal inspection and to make an open air address.

Numerous other dignitaries are scheduled to visit the jamboree, which ends July 6, including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, who will be their guest of honor July 4, to celebrate the nation's independence. Day on the very grounds where the plans for American freedom were laid.

The 40th annual meeting of the national council of the Boy Scouts of America will be held in Philadelphia prior to the jamboree, with more than 1500 adult leaders of the scouting movement scheduled to attend.

possibly prolonged diplomatic struggle.

The Moscow press already alleges that the opening attack actually was made by the south Koreans and that the communists of the north merely retaliated.

There is nothing whatever in Korean dispatches from skilled and seasoned war correspondents to lend the slightest credence to this claim.

As a matter of fact, the communists were so well prepared that airplanes were dropping propaganda pamphlets over Seoul and other cities within a few hours after the first shot was fired.

It can be taken for granted that the men responsible for this outbreak on a quiet Sunday already have laid the groundwork for justification.

And it is not impossible, of course, that a certain number of south Koreans will welcome the communists. There has been much trouble in the areas below the 38th parallel in recent months and many charges have been made against the local leaders.

The United Nations must make its own careful on the spot investigation and then place a full report in the hands of the security council.

The use of military sanctions is a double-bladed sword and an exceedingly dangerous undertaking. It seems highly likely that the United Nations will avoid it if possible. Yet mere isolation and world criticism have served no purpose in halting communist aggrandizement.

The United Nations faced grave issues in Palestine, Kashmir and elsewhere. Up to now it had held its own, although with difficulty. The Korean issue can make or break it.

LISTER'S GREAT LEGACY

HISTORIC turning point in the battle against death and disease was August 12, 1865 when Lister soaked a dressing on a boy's crushed leg with carbolic acid. Usual treatment at that time would have been amputation. This act tested Lister's theories that infection and disease were transmitted by unseen organisms, frequently introduced by doctors themselves. Four days later, the injury was found to be free from infection . . . a fact that led to today's aseptic and antiseptic surgery that permits healing measures to be taken without amputation or risk of infection.

The cleanliness that is synonymous with medicine and its practice is our watchword, too. Every precaution is taken in our prescription department to assure the purity of our doctor's prescriptions.

Old School Journal Is Given Historical Society

In clearing out his desk, preparatory to turning over the duties of his office as County Superintendent of Schools to his successor Roy F. Conway, John C. Syling came upon an old school minute book and ledger, which gives some enlightening facts on early education in the county. The book has been turned over to the Historical Society. The book contains the early records of the Perry township school district, when this section was a part of Beaver county.

Board Organized in 1845
The records start with the meeting of March 29, 1845, when it appears the district was first organized. The first meeting of the board was held in the home of Joseph Morton, when Alex Morrison was appointed president, Joseph Morton, secretary, and William Morrison, treasurer. It was agreed to build a school house on M. N. Clark's land, near the Doc A. Cunningham line. The school millage was set at two mills. Alex Morrison and Joseph Marshall were appointed directors for three years, M. N. Clark and James Hazen, two years, and Jacob Vandogter and Joseph Morton, one year.

From then on the minute book reveals the doings of the board until around 1860. The first record shows that female teachers were to receive $10 per month, and male teachers the magnificent sum of $16. Later on it was shown that the board must have been too generous as far as pay was concerned, for the minutes of the meeting of March 25, 1848, records that the wages of female teachers was to be rated at $5, $6 and $7 per month.

Building Cost $135
School buildings were quite expensive in those days, the minutes revealing that the contract was let for a building to Jonathan Houk for $135, and that it was to be built of two inch plank, of a size of 20 by 24 feet, with a nine foot ceiling, with weather boarding over the planks.

Taxpayers were passed from one district to another, the township having been divided into seven sub-districts, and later an eighth one was added. If a person wished to transfer from one sub-district to another, all he had to do was secure the sanction of the board, and pay his share to the new district. Numerous instances of these transactions are recorded.

It seems apparent that when the district ran out of funds with which to keep things going, they simply shut the school down. Tax money was divided up among the sub-districts, and according to the records, each sub-district got $31.30, plus a state appropriation of $11.08, with which to operate their school for one year.

In September 1849, the board decided to adopt a uniform system of books, pursuant to an act of assembly, and chose the following: spelling, Raymond Cobb's old book; reading, McGuffey's, first, second, third and fourth, together with the Holy Scriptures; "arithmetic," Western Calculator; grammar, Kirkham's.

Depreciated Money
It seems there was depreciated money in those days, too, because the records in 1850 directed that "depreciated money be divided equally between the sub-districts."

In 1850, a disagreement developed between the contractor for one of the new school buildings, with the result that three workmen were named on a committee to pass on the structure, which was built on the Beaver-Harlanburg road, found damages in favour of the on lands of Widow Walker. They school board in the sum of $10.51 1/2 cents.

In 1850, the records show that the wages of male teachers was set at $20, and females at $10, and that they were to board themselves.

Tax millage seemed to have gone up about a mill a year, for in 1856, the board fixed the millage at five mills for school purposes and three mills for school buildings.

Teacher Went Insane
On September 5, 1860, the board passed a resolution that they would not pay more than five cents per bushel for coal, but records show that they bought it for as low as two and a half cents per bushel. A good stove could be bought for $1.50, it is shown.

School kids seemed to be bad in those days, as the records show that one of the teachers went insane. The directors were ordered to pay over his salary for teaching for one month to the poor directors for his maintenance. He had received the magnificent sum of $11 for one month's teaching. He might have gone crazy trying to make ends meet.

Some of the writing is quite legible, but in some other cases, it is quite faded and it is difficult to make out. Some of the secretaries apparently were good spellers and some were not, but on the whole the records are most legible, but quite terse.

Brazil borders on every country in South America but Ecuador and Chile.

Chandler Harper Wins PGA Crown

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

COLUMBUS, O., June 28.—An affable 36-year-old Virginian, Chandler Harper, today broke the monopoly the "name pros" have held since 1944 on the Professional Golf Association championship.

Harper, a guy who had never given up after 16 years of waiting for his first major championship, defeated another rank-and-filer, Henry Williams Jr., 4 and 3, yesterday in the 36-hole final round at the Scotto Country club in Columbus.

About To Retire
The lanky Virginian had all but retired from the tournament trail this year, although his winnings totaled something over $3,500. He has been serving as pro at two clubs in his native Portsmouth.

But in one swoop he virtually equalled his previous 1950 winnings with the immediate accrual of $3,500 in PGA first prize money. In addition he will collect heavily upon the commercial and intrinsic values of his new standing as king of the pros.

His opponent Williams, whose infrequent tournament appearances netted him a mere $192 previously, gained $1,500 for his runner-up effort. The Secane, Pa., linksman was a defeated quarter-finalist in 1949.

Williams seemed to have settled for second-best before yesterday's final round even began. Playing like a Sunday morning duffer, he bogied the first three holes, lost them all and never did get back in the ball game.

LEESBURG

BIBLE SCHOOL CLASSES
The Daily Vacation Bible School of the Leesburg and Drake churches which has been in progress since June 12, came to a close Friday evening with a varied program of music, songs, choruses, and recitations.

The school was a successful one, opening with a large parade and having an enrollment of 145 pupils. The teachers were Mrs. William Simon, Mrs. Dick Rite, Mrs. Chas. Dillinger, Mrs. Polding, Mrs. Alex Arrow, Mrs. D. Thompson, Mrs. Katherine Filer, Mrs. William Karns, Shirley Martin, Doris Yeager, Jo Ann Hawthorne, Marian Rice, Elaine Simon, and Jane Lloyd.

COUPLE TO BE WED
Complete plans are announced by Miss Lavene Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davis for her marriage to Jack Peters, East Butler street, Mercer.

The open church ceremony will take place at 7:30 p.m., Friday, June 30 in the Leesburg Presbyterian church. Attendees for Miss Davis will be Miss Ruth Ann Wylie of Jackson Center, and Miss Joyce Kilmer of Mercer. James Boycan of Mercer will serve Mr. Peters as best man. The ushers will be David Noble of Jackson Center, and Melvin Ryder of Mercer.

LEESBURG NOTES
Esther Orr spent the past week with friends at New Castle.

Mrs. William Drake, Mrs. Clarence Drake and Mrs. Carmen Hawthorne attended a demonstration at the Pleasant Valley Grange Hall, Mercer-Grove City road, Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rice and son of Oakridge, Tenn., are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Sara Rice and family.

Mrs. William Swift and children, and Mrs. Helen Green and son of Girard, O., spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Hawthorne. Buddy Swift remained for a visit in the Hawthorne home.

HANDY BENCH
LOS ANGELES—"One couple" benches suitable for two-somes are being installed in Los Angeles parks. Los Angeles County Supervisor John Anson Ford ordered the benches, claiming that "if a fellow and his girl want to sit in the park, they certainly don't want to share a bench with anyone."

Mr. Rose's particularly wheel of chance won honorable retirement at the Fourth Worth Exposition, where hundreds of thousands of eager Texans produced thin dime chances to win boxes of bacon. "The odds against them," said Billy with a reminiscent gleam, "were 71 to one, and since the prize boxes of bacon for which they competed cost me ten cents apiece, they virtually were playing that 71 to one chance to get their money back."

Pleasing Stopover Here For B. & O. Railroad Employees

Laying over at the end of a run is an inconvenience that railroaders have learned to accept as a necessary evil of the job.

But when the layover point has comfortable beds and good wholesome food at reasonable prices the inconvenience is lessened considerably.

It's so at the New Castle Junction layover point for Baltimore and Ohio crews. The Recreation Center, built several years ago, on Cherry street is in reality a small hotel, located far enough away from the roar of shifters and through trains that a man may enjoy a good night's sleep.

Year Of Decision Says Head Of U.N.

Open Territory

The center is located in an open area with long views from the windows and in the background the green hills of the Taylor township district. The building contains sleeping quarters to accommodate sixty men at a time, while the restaurant features wholesome substantial food at prices not duplicated in a commercial restaurant.

William Considine, superintendent of the B&O's 35 such centers between Chicago and Washington made an inspection trip of the local center on Monday and invited a News staffer to visit the place and have lunch. The visit was interesting and the lunch good.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wall, a couple with fifteen years experience in handling industrial commissaries have just come to the center as managers, and for the present are getting their bearings.

On the first floor are the living quarters for Mr. and Mrs. Wall, living quarters for about eight assistants, the kitchen, dining room, and the recreation room where the crews can read or play cards in their idle hours.

The second floor contains the sleeping rooms and bathrooms. The bedrooms are not fancy, there are no Persian rugs on the floor or old masters hung on the walls, but the beds are comfortable, which after all is the main purpose of a bedroom. For the rooms the men are charged 65 cents for a twenty-four occupancy, with a nickel extra for a towel and a cake of soap.

As for the food prices, the B&O men can buy a "stick-to-your-ribs" meal upon which the profit, if any, is minute.

Teamwork Of ECA Aids Polio Victim

PARIS (INS) — Marshall Plan funds, plus three-way teamwork between England, France and the United States, came to the rescue of James Vidal, 16-year-old French girl stricken with infantile paralysis while vacationing in England.

Doctors told her mother, who had rushed to her bedside, that her condition was too serious to allow her to travel home to a French specialist outside of an iron lung, available only in the U. S.

Learning of the case, the French ECA Mission swung into action, cut all red tape and had a portable iron lung flown into Paris from Denver, Colorado.

When the apparatus reached Paris, it immediately was transferred to another plane which took it to England.

Jeanne Vidal was in a Paris hospital the following day.

LETTERS TO THE NEWS

(Letters intended for this column must be signed with name and address of writer.)

MAKES SUGGESTION
New Castle, Pa.
June 27, 1950

New Castle News, City.

Dear Sirs:

Recently, The News has published a couple of letters from out of town persons who expressed appreciation of our Sylvan Heights Municipal Golf Course. My neighbor and I have been playing on this course for the past half dozen seasons, but as one of these writers says, it never occurred to me, at least, to bother thanking anybody for furnishing a top notch public course. People are funny that way, aren't they?

One of the writers seems to have a preference for a hole on the back nine, but our choice is No. 5. This is a short hole, and it looks like an easy pitch for anybody, but I have observed that it is seldom that all of a foursome get on the green, as they mostly hit short. It is a deceptive hole. This is an interesting history, and it occurs to me that it would make a nice story, if someone who has been familiar with the course over the years, would write it up. I believe that L. B. Round, president of the Power company, has been active in the handling of the course since its inception. Why not ask him to do this little thing? Just a suggestion on my part.

Very truly,
A. I. BARLOWE.

Building Program In May Sets Record

HARRISBURG, June 28.—(INS) —The building program totaled $56,334,165 in May and set a monthly record, the labor and industry department reported today.

The May value surpassed April's total by $1,069,737.

The figure was based on reports from 359 municipalities which issued 10,134 permits for the month compared to 8,192 for April.

Although permits for 3,937 residential dwellings indicated an eight-tenths of one per cent increase over April, estimated value at $39,736,397 represented a 1.7 per cent decrease.

Commercial, industrial and public building permits totaled 996 with a value of $10,752,261 compared to April's 813 permits valued at $8,642,035.

Truffles range in size from a pea to a big potato.

CULTIVATE VEGETABLES BUT SPARE THOSE ROOTS

With plenty of moisture in the soil, the roots of most vegetable crops grow near the surface of the ground rather than downward. This is especially true of soils which are not well drained or moisture for the roots of the plants where there has been plenty of to develop near the surface.

First cultivation when the plants are coming through the ground or when they are small should be fairly close to the plants and more or less deep. This will have a tendency to force the roots deeper into the soil.

As the plant continues to grow, only shallow cultivation is necessary—just enough to break the hard surface crust and kill weeds. Deeper cultivation may cut off feeding roots, some of which may be growing near the surface.

The more roots cut off during cultivation the greater will be the injury to the plants. Many times deep cultivation close to the plants has stunted plant growth.

Deep cultivation midway between the rows of crops planted 20 inches apart or farther is often desirable. This deep cultivation tends to keep the ground fairly well aerated and it will also absorb large quantities of water during heavy rains.

MOSQUITOES BREED IN STAGNANT WATER

In early June mosquitoes begin their nightly visits in search of blood. Only the females do the biting.

Since all mosquitoes must have water in which to breed, the elimination of stagnant water is one of the best methods of controlling these insects. Water that is allowed to stand 10 to 12 days during the summer will afford excellent breeding places for mosquitoes. Discarded tin cans, old tires, troughs, barrels, buckets, and similar containers, if allowed to hold water, soon become breeding places. Water holes and depressions can be drained, filled, or treated to prevent mosquitoes from breeding. A light film of oil placed on water will kill most kinds of mosquito wigglers. Repeat this treatment during the summer at about 7 to 10-day intervals.

During the day, adult mosquitoes hide under porches, in basements, shrubs, weeds, and similar places out of direct sunlight. Spray these areas with DDT. In buildings, 5 per cent household type DDT (dissolved in odorless kerosene) may be used.

On shrubs, weeds, and other vegetation, use 50 per cent DDT wettable powder at the rate of 2 tablespoons to each gallon of water. Apply spray materials every few weeks throughout the summer to kill adult mosquitoes.

Several good repellents for mosquitoes are sold commercially and can be used to give relief for a few hours. Some of these chemicals are Rutgers 612, Indalone, dimethyl phthalate, dimethyl carbate, and a mixture of these.

KILL STORAGE GRAIN INSECTS

Storage grain insects can be controlled. As soon as the bins are emptied of old grain clean the sides and floor and spray or paint them with 5 per cent DDT in old (household DDT). This treatment kills any insects present and will prevent reinfestation in the new grain.

The slogan, "Don't smoke in bed, that last cigaret may be your last cigaret," is displayed in many hotel rooms today.

Correspondent Gives Account Of Flight

ist invaders were just a short distance north of Suwon.

The American soldiers stationed at the airfield told us they had had no communication with the world outside Korea, except through their radio talks with U. S. pilots who went into action today against the Red tanks and troops.

Souls Held By Reds

The Americans at the airfield said they had no food and no blankets, except what the South Korean soldiers had given them.

I was informed during the aerial tour that Seoul now is completely in the hands of the Communists.

President Rhee and his government, I was told, stopped only briefly at Suwon to which they had fled from Seoul, the Korean capital.

They arrived at Suwon earlier today and left a few hours later, traveling in a large number of automobiles and jeeps and accompanied by trucks carrying government documents.

Our plane landed for only a three-minute stop at a field near Suwon. American soldiers stationed there said they expected to remain only long enough to instruct a South Korean detachment how to operate a mortar which had been flown in to their assistance.

We flew most of the way back to the Itazuke base with a ceiling of only 200 feet.

Roads Crowded

After landing at Itazuke, I was told by the New York Herald-Tribune's Korea correspondent, Marguerite Higgins, that Burton Crane of the New York Times was injured when a bridge was blown up near Seoul.

Despite the poor weather, we were able to observe during the flight over Korea that the roads south from Seoul were crowded with refugees.

We heard reports that the countryside between Suwon and Tagu is infested with Communist guerrillas, some of whom have been lurking in the hills and staging raids for several months after smuggling themselves across the 38th parallel from North to South Korea.

WALLET MISSING

Connie Miller, 1211 North Mercer street, reported to police Tuesday afternoon that her wallet containing $34 was missing from the dressing room at Ben Franklin Junior High.

Miss Miller, a swimming instructor there, said that there were about 30 girls in the room at the time. A driver's license, other cards, and pictures are also missing in the green wallet.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

U.S. AIRMEN IN KOREA SHOOT DOWN 7 PLANES

Communists have about 100 of these tanks. He would not say whether the South Koreans have any equivalent tanks.

Made 68 Sorties

The Air Force said its fighter planes flew a total of 68 sorties in the course of shooting down the seven planes. One Communist plane was shot down by an American in escort duty, bringing the total Communist losses to nine planes.

No reports have been received in Washington of the destruction of tanks or of bombing by American planes. A squadron of B-26 bombers went out, but returned without dropping bombs because of poor visibility and difficulty in identifying the battle field.

The U. S. Air Force dropped 200,000 leaflets yesterday, including President Truman's message to the Japanese.

Japanese newspapers approving American action to support South Korea.

An Army spokesman said that the Communists' heavy equipment is "better than we thought." In addition to tanks, they have a large number of armored cars and quantities of Japanese and Soviet artillery.

Task Force Sent

The U. S. Navy has sent a task force under Rear Adm. John Higgins to save the port of Pusan, 150 miles from Seoul. Higgins has a cruiser and four destroyers.

The task force has reached the scene but has not yet gone into action. It has been unable because of poor weather to confirm a report that 1,000 invaders have established a beach head 35 miles north of Pusan.

The Pusan Beach head is one of five established by amphibious forces along the eastern coast.

All U. S. air operations so far have been carried out from Japan. The air field at Suwon, 15 miles south of Seoul, is still held by the South Koreans but is in jeopardy.

Instructors Course In Water Safety Is Offered By Red Cross

Red Cross Water Safety Instructors training course is being offered at the Greystone Garden pool, Junction park, in New Brighton, July 11-14.

The course will be under the direction of Charles H. Freeland, safety service field representative of the American Red Cross. All Red Cross Water Safety Instructors are eligible to enroll.

Red Cross life guards must be 19 years old, hold senior life guard certificate and complete preliminary training course to be eligible.

For further information contact the local Red Cross office on North Beaver street.

U.S. Shows Stand Against Aggression

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—The United States today is demonstrating with bombing planes and warships in south Korea that it will use its armed might anywhere American security is imperiled by communist military aggression.

President Truman launched this new international policy in the far Pacific on advice of his top military leaders.

Mr. Truman based his decision on a plea from the security council of the United Nations for help in restoring peace in south Korea. But the die cast goes far beyond this one small nation. It covers the peace-loving nations of the world.

America's top military leaders are convinced that the Russian move in Korea is a direct attack on American security in the Pacific. If taken quietly, the military experts believe Russia would instigate other armed attacks on American interests around the world. The Korean war is looked upon as a Russian test of America's defenses.

Restrictions Of Wartime Ordered

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—Wartime restrictions on visitors were clamped on nearly all U.S. armed forces bases at home and abroad today under a general authorization sent out by the Defense Department.

Although action was left to the discretion of local commanders, the army, navy and air force confirmed that the restrictions had been adopted immediately at practically all posts, naval yards and air fields.

The navy sent out a specific order that no "casual visitors" are to be permitted—even on the Fourth of July—on warships docked in navy yards. Visitors may be permitted on ships at Commercial docks.

The air force and army said that restrictions are similar to those in World War Two—employees must have their military passes, special permission must be obtained to enter a base on business.

Convention Of Lions Reported

Delegates Report On State Meeting

In addition to hearing reports of various committees on club activities, New Castle Lions club members heard from the delegates who attended the convention of District 14, which was held at State College last week, at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castle-ton Tuesday noon.

The report of the delegates showed that the Pennsylvania district is a fast growing one, an increase of 51 clubs and 2,912 members being reported for last year, bringing the total state membership to 28,795 members and almost 500 clubs.

Local District Divided

Delegates who represented the local club were: Arthur W. Meek, William W. McCombs, George D. Wilson, Earl T. Ramsey, Ralph Sacripant, Harry W. Helmick, incoming president; Robert Jenkins and Loy H. Patterson. Earl T. Ramsey was chairman of the important resolutions committee.

It was reported that District 14-F which includes the New Castle club has been split, due to its rapid growth. The local club is still in district 14-F, the other portion of the district being known as 14-J. The local district had a gain of 11 clubs, of the 51 reported for the year.

Ralph Spence of Butler was named the new governor of District 14-F for the coming year.

It was voted to suspend with next week's meeting because of the July 4 holiday, and at the meeting the following week, Harry W. Helmick will be installed as president to succeed Sam Rashid.

Secretary Roy F. Conway, in a report on the membership of the local club, reported a total mem-

Second Baptist D.V.B.S. Program

At the Second Baptist church, Rev. J. L. McFarland, pastor, the Daily Vacation Bible school, closed on Friday at noon, with a picnic lunch in the basement of the church.

In the evening, at seven o'clock, a commencement program was given in the main auditorium, which consisted of selections from each department of the school.

Rev. Henry J. Payden of St. Paul's Baptist church, gave an interesting talk on the subject "Study To Show Thyself Approved Unto God." Certificates and pencils were awarded to the pupils of the school. Prizes were awarded for the best essay on "The Tabernacle", the theme for the 10 days period: junior department, Myrna Campbell; intermediate, Paul Ward. Prizes were awarded to Evelyn Johnson and Richard Ward for the most initiative boy and girl.

At the close of the program, the teachers presented Mrs. Louise Watson, supervisor, with a lovely gift. Mr. and Mrs. Wyrie of the First Baptist church were special guests.

The teachers and visiting friends reassembled in the basement where a display of handwork was exhibited. Rev. Payden gave a brief explanation of the various divisions of the Tabernacle.

Entomologist Lloyd Adams, points out the path of army worms to John Hoyer and John Holbert (standing). This picture taken on the Hoyer farm at Plaingrove, shows the difference in color of an area effected by the worms. The men are standing on a patch which has turned brown because the worms have destroyed the grass. Just beyond the dotted line is green pasturage.

LARVA OF ARMY WORMS

ARMY WORMS! Those words strike terror in the hearts of our farmers. In the northwestern section of Pennsylvania, 10 out of 19 counties have been hit hard by this plague. But nowhere in this section has the army worm catastrophe reached the proportions of the grasshopper and locust plagues of yesteryear.

Where the locust and grasshopper wrought complete devastation, stripping everything within reach, the army worm has been eating the tender feeder leaves of local crops. With the exception of corn and timothy, it is difficult for the layman to understand the destruction of crops.

In the case of corn and timothy, the army worm eats nearly the whole plant. Fields of timothy like that of Louis Gargis, Plaingrove, where the worm has destroyed 10 acres of hay crop by feeding on the leaf and head of the plant leaving in its wake the bare stock.

In the corn field of William Cunningham, Plaingrove, the infestation migrated from a barley field into the corn shredding the stocks down close to the ground. In this field of 12 acres of corn, the damage estimated by John Holbert of the Lawrence county farm extension office, was set at about 50 per cent.

One Of First To Report
One of the first farmers to report the army worm was John Hoyer of Plaingrove. His infestation started in a pasture where the feed crop has now turned autumn brown. The worms migrated from the pasture into a corn field where some damage was done, across an oats field where no damage was done into a wheat field where the worms are working now.

Mr. Hoyer was able to save his timothy by cutting and baling immediately.

In one of the barley fields on the Hoyer farm, Mr. Holbert estimated the grain loss to be about 40 per cent. It was estimated by calculating the amount of heads of grain cut off and the loss of grain due to expected shrinkage of grain size. Farm extension experts believe that grain hit by army worms will not develop due to the loss of feeder leaves which furnish the nourishment to the grain.

Entomologist Here
Lloyd Adams, extension entomologist specialist, who toured Lawrence county farms with newsmen and farm extension personnel, stated that many farmers are defeating themselves in the fight against the army worm. They are cultivating sprayed corn fields within 24 to 48 hours after spraying, turning down the poison crystals which would destroy the worm. These fields should not be touched for about seven days, according to Mr. Adams.

When asked where the army worms came from and how to get rid of them, Mr. Adams gave the following answer:

"The army worm has always been with us. Usually nature controls their number, either by weather conditions or by a small parasite hatched on the back of the worm from the egg of a fly similar to a house fly. Now either man-made insecticides have killed too many of the parent parasites or a twist of nature has caused the worm to multiply more rapidly than the parasite."

How To Control

"Now to control the army worm it is necessary for the farmer to spray the larvae which is the stage of its life cycle that we call the army worm. Two sprays are being used effectively at present. They are chlordane and DDT. Methods of use and percentages may be had from the local Farm Extension office in the Federal Building in New Castle."

There are nearly three complete broods of the worm each year. The most destructive is the June brood, this is the one that must be controlled to save farm crops. The worm is almost two inches in length. Dark green in color, they are marked by a broken white line along the middle of the back with three light stripes on the side.

Lloyd Adams whose territory covers the 18 counties of northwestern Pennsylvania, lists the following counties as infected: Armstrong, Center, Clearfield, Jefferson, Clarion, Butler, Lawrence, Mercer, Venango and Crawford. In Lawrence county the hardest hit sections are: Plaingrove, Hickory township and North Beaver township.

Amputees Play Good Tennis Game Again

VALLEJO, Cal.—(INS)—A group of young men at the Mare Island Naval hospital are practicing tennis in preparation for outside competition.

The unusual thing about this team, however, is the fact they haven't any arms.

But they are doing the seemingly impossible with the aid of an "Amputee tennis racket" designed by Clove I. Croix of Alameda.

The device is a standard racket equipment with an adapter which can be fitted into an artificial limb. The rig is accompanied by an aluminum cup attachment enabling the amputee to scoop up the ball and toss it into the air for serving.

LaCroix, an athletic director for the Carnation Milk company, hopes to take the team on tour. He also says he will make the invention available to all amputees—vets and non-vets alike.

So men who once thought they would never play any game again are playing one deemed the most impossible for an amputee.

BUS COMPLAINTS

HAMILTON, O. — Television—already blamed for inroads into school grades—is now said to be cutting the profits of a city bus line. The manager of the Hamilton city lines claims many evening trips are made without picking up a single passenger. These routes, he said, previously did a heavy business in evening movie-goers. Manager Joseph Bowman blames it all on television. His movie trade has switched to TV.

Air Reserve Quota
Set By Air Force

Word has been received by the 9539th Air Reserve Squadron, of this city, from 9th Air Force headquarters, Langley Field, Va., that a quota has been set on the strength of all reserve squadrons.

It is also a matter of record that any Air Force Reservist who is not an active member of a volunteer reserve squadron or an organized reserve squadron will have his commission terminated at the end of the present period. The reservist would thereby lose all rank and seniority.

According to the 9539th liaison officer, Capt. J. M. Frew, the local squadron strength is nearing the quota set by Ninth Air Force and he urges that any reservist who is not now a member of an active unit attend the regular meeting of the 9539th Thursday night at 8 o'clock. These meetings are held in the ROA clubrooms on the Public Square.

It is important that all members attend Thursday night's meeting as plans are underway to move the squadron facilities to the New Castle Airport and several important phases of the move are to be discussed. The atomic film "Tale of Two Cities" will be shown.

Sportsmen Meet At Clarendon

On Sunday, June 24, sportsmen from nine counties of the northwestern division of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen assembled at the Kalbfus Rod & Gun club near Clarendon in Warren county amid the natural surroundings of the Allegheny National Forest to discuss matters affecting sportsmen.

Several important issues were brought before the delegates for discussion. For instance, a resolution was adopted that would limit the tenure of office of either game or fish commissioner to one term or eight years, with only one exception. The chairman of either commission could hold office for two terms.

Another resolution accepted by the division would permit paralytics (lower extremities or war casualties) to use firearms from vehicles along highways during hunting seasons by special approval of game officials.

Another resolution causing considerable discussion, pertained to the extension of motorboating on the upper Pymatuning lake. After considerable argument, the resolution was referred back to the sportsmen of the various counties for approval.

Temple Reynolds, superintendent of district one of the Pennsylvania game commission, informed the assembled sportsmen that 25,000 ringneck pheasants had already been stocked in the nine counties comprising the division and that 145,000 ringneck chicks would be distributed to sportsmen and farm-game cooperators. As a result of heavy stocking program, a good hunting season was forecast.

Officials of the game commission conducted the sportsmen on a tour of game lands in the national forest. A highlight of the trip was an inspection of Chapman dam, constructed by the Department of Forests and Waters for the conservation of water resources and recreational purposes. The lake was approximately 100 acres in size and has been heavily stocked with rainbow trout.

The next northwest division meeting will be held in Erie during September.

George Bollinger represented the Lawrence county council at the meeting.

STAMP CLUB NEWS

The next meeting of the Junior Stamp club will be held at the YMCA Tuesday, July 17 at 7 p.m. There will be a door prize at the close of the meeting.

Mount Markham, 15,100 feet, is the highest peak in Antarctica.

SCOUT CARAVAN GOES THROUGH CITY

Caravan of over 100 1950 Buicks transporting 250 Boy Scouts to Valley Forge, Pa., passed through the downtown streets on Tuesday about noon. The Boy Scouts were from the Pine Tree Council at Flint, Mich., and were on their way to the National Boy Scout Jamboree. State police from the New Castle barracks formed an escort for the caravan at the Ohio line on route 224, bringing them through New Castle to the Butler County line. City police were stationed at every major intersection and saw the fleet of automobiles pass through the city rapidly and without mishap.

Plan Inquiry In Ship Crash

NEW YORK, June 28.—(INS)—A Coast Guard inquiry was scheduled today on the head-on collision in New York's narrows between the cruise ship Excalibur and the Danish freighter Columbia.

A gaping hole was torn in the American Export liner's bow 35 minutes after she sailed on a Mediterranean trip with 114 passengers yesterday. The 9,644-ton liner was towed quickly to the mud flats where she grounded in 32 feet of water.

The Columbia, inbound from Philadelphia, also was ripped open in the bow and a fire started in her No. 1 hold. The blaze was extinguished several hours later after the 9,200-ton freighter was towed to a Brooklyn pier.

Only one or two minor injuries were reported and the Excalibur's passengers were taken off the cruise ship by two tugs and returned to the Jersey City pier from which they had sailed.

Elderly Resident Suffers Broken Hip

John B. Dennis, aged 76 years, of 406 Galbreath avenue, is undergoing treatment in the New Castle hospital for a fracture of the right hip, suffered when he fell Sunday. Mr. Dennis was visiting at the home of a neighbor and when he went to leave, missed his footing, falling from the steps of the home.

Decision Reached On South Korea Aid On Monday Night

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—President Truman's momentous decision to rush all-out aid to South Korea was reached Monday night at a secret conference with top military leaders and the cabinet.

The president summoned the conferees to Blair House about the middle of the evening for a two-hour parley.

Their decision—described by one official as a "calculated risk"—was flashed instantly to Gen. Douglas MacArthur and to the commander-in-chief of the Seventh Fleet, and the United States was in its first shooting encounter since World War II before midnight Monday.

Mr. Truman immediately decided to lay his policy declaration before key members of Congress of both parties Tuesday morning.

An official who was present at that meeting said:

"There was a complete closing of ranks. Not a single voice was raised in disagreement with the president's decisions."

Korea Means 'Land Of Morning Peace'

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—It remained for the Staid National Geographic Society to supply an ironic twist to the Korean fighting.

The society noted that the name Korea means "Land of Morning Peace." Incidentally, Koreans have fought invaders for 2,000 years.

Facing Serious Situation In Cause Of Peace Says Truman

WASHINGTON, June 28.—(INS)—President Truman told the Reserve officers of the U. S. today that "we face a serious situation—but we hope we face it in the cause of peace."

The president made this statement after he was given a tremendous ovation by the Reserve officers in convention here as an expression of their support of his policy decision on the Far East.

At the end of an extemporaneous talk, in which he had made no reference to the Korean crisis, the president heard the toastmaster ask the several hundred reserve officers assembled:

"Do we, the Reserve officers of the armed forces, support our commander in chief in the dynamic action he took yesterday?"

The officers sprang to their feet cheering loudly and shouting "Yes, we do."

Exposition Aids Swing Lobby Funds

Swing lobby building funds of the Mayor's recreation project will be richer as a result of the American Exposition shows now playing at the Cascade St. circus grounds.

Swing Lobby committee, Dr. John A. Meehan, chairman, is interested in accumulating enough funds to eventually have a building of its own.

Sponsoring the exposition at the circus grounds carries a guaranteed return. There is no admission to the show but there is a nominal parking fee charged by the city for maintenance of the parking area.

THE FAMILY
SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CEREBRAL PALSY—THE PARENTS' JOB.

In approximately one family for every 250 there is a child whose muscle control is impaired or lost.

Such a handicap results from an injury to the brain either before or during birth. In some cases almost all muscles are affected, in others only those connected with one part of the body. Intellectual ability is not necessarily affected.

Children suffering from this disease generally need special training. The special training involves re-routing nerve impulses. The injured nerves can no longer work so others have to be trained to replace them.

The parent's attitude and understanding is of the greatest importance. No one can be blamed for what has happened. Cerebral palsy is not apparently inherited. Insofar as possible the child should be treated as though he were normal. Instead of doing everything for him—a natural temptation—parents should encourage him to learn to do things for himself.

In a number of cities groups of parents, whose children have cerebral palsy, have banded together to help promote better re-training facilities.

A Public Affairs Pamphlet, "Help at Last for Cerebral Palsy," has recently been published and is obtainable from the Public Affairs Committee. It contains a great deal of useful information if you have a child with cerebral palsy.

Aides Identify Insect Specimens

HARRISBURG—Scores of specimens of insects have been received weekly this spring for identification by entomologists in the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture.

Heading the list are suspected termites or "flying ants", according to Dr. A. B. Champlain, principal entomologist, but bugs of all kinds, shapes and sizes come in for identification and information as to their control or elimination.

While termites are highly destructive to workwork in homes and other buildings, the flying ants are perfectly harmless except that they may become a nuisance the same as many other ants, the state entomologist declares. The winged black termite has a heavy "waist line" while the flying ant has a narrow, wasp-like waist, he explained. The true termite has no wings and is grayish-white in color. However, at one stage of development a termite colony sends out "advance guards" to establish new colonies. These insects are black and have wings. They come out on floors, porches or other open places and many times are so numerous they can be swept up with a broom.

Eleven Counties To Have Anniversaries

HARRISBURG, June 28—Eleven of Pennsylvania's 67 counties mark their centennials or sesquicentennials in 1950 and some of these counties observing their anniversaries will stage celebrations, says the State Department of Commerce vacation and recreation bureau.

Cumberland county, however, will mark its 200th birthday this year along with eight counties that are 150 years old this year and two that are 100 years old.

Cumberland county, created in 1750, was taken from Lancaster county and named for Cumberland county, England. Carlisle was named as the county seat in 1752 and incorporated as a borough in 1872.

Sesquicentennial birthdays are marked this year by Adams, Armstrong, Beaver, Butler, Centre, Crawford, Erie and Mercer counties, and Montour and Fulton will observe their 100th anniversaries.

GARDEN WEDDING

"I am planning a garden wedding and would greatly appreciate the following information: (1) Will it be correct for me to wear the traditional wedding gown and train? (2) May we hold the reception in the garden or must it be held somewhere else? (3) If we have a double ring ceremony, should I buy the ring for the groom? May it be gold? My rings will be platinum. (4) We do not intend to announce our engagement until a month before the wedding. Is this too short a time? (5) When should the invitations be mailed?"

Answer: (1) It will be quite correct for you to wear the traditional wedding gown and train at your garden wedding.

(2) The reception may also be held in the garden.

(3) The bride should supply the groom's wedding ring. It may be yellow gold even though yours are not.

(4) The announcement may be made a month before the wedding if you desire.

(5) Invitations should be sent from two to three weeks before the wedding.

Question: I plan to be married this summer and would like to know if it would be proper for my parents to give the reception at the home of the bridegroom as his home is much larger than ours. (2) Should I send an invitation to the groom's parents?

Answer: You must have your reception either at your home or at a hotel. It is not correct to have a wedding at the groom's home.

(2) Yes. Send an invitation to everyone in the groom's family.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Seventeen Year
Locusts Are Due

HARRISBURG — Residents of Western Pennsylvania are requested by the State Department of Agriculture to be on the watch for 17-year locusts due to appear this month.

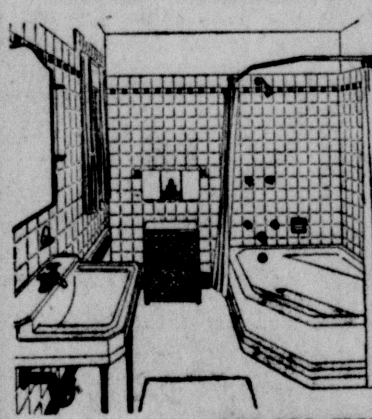

According to a Bureau of Plant Industry time-table of appearances of 17-year locusts, Brood VII (seven) should show up in Allegheny and Washington counties where it appeared in the year 1933. There are about 30 known broods or families of these locusts and Brood VII has been known to occur only in those counties.

No reports of appearance have been received to date from Allegheny and Washington counties but a perfect specimen was sent this week from Clearfield county, indicating that Brood VII may have spread over a wider area than previously known to entomologists.

Any who find specimens are requested to send them to the Bureau at Harrisburg with information as to where they were found.

PAPPAS-COPPLE WEDDING NEWS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen Pappas, daughter of George Pappas of 28 Chartes street, to Francis R. Copple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Copple of 219½ Friendship street.

Wedding vows were exchanged Thursday, June 22, at 9 a. m., in the St. Vitus church with Rev. Fr. Albert Inteso officiating at the double ring high mass ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of traditional satin fashioned train. The bodice and long pointed sleeves were of imported Belgium lace. Her veil of imported illusion was held to a lace bonnet. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade bouquet composed of white orchids, stephanotis and white roses.

Miss Helen J. Gollis headed the bridal procession as aid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Ann Borza, Carrie DiThomas, and Dorothy McConnell of Baltimore. They were dressed identically in gowns of white nylon net over slipper satin skirts with shirred bodices and bouffant skirts of nylon net.

Fitted lace jackets buttoned down the front, dolman sleeves, and a flared peplum were accented with a Peter Pan collar. Teresa Lou Copple was the junior bridesmaid, wearing a white nylon net gown with sweetheart neckline, shirred bodice and cap sleeves. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses, centered with an orchid. The other attendants carried the same type of bouquets, centered with white carnations.

Ralph Ciazza served the groom as best man. Ushering were Arthur Apecelli, James Copple and William Spano of Baltimore, Md.

A wedding breakfast and dinner were served after the ceremony.

Five hundred guests attended the evening reception at the King Humbert hall.

The couple is honeymooning in Atlantic City, New York and Baltimore, Md. The groom is located with the United States Army band in Baltimore.

BIGLEY-JOHNSON

CHARMING WEDDING

St. Joseph's church was the scene of a charming summer wedding Saturday, June 24, at 9 a. m., when Miss Adella Mae Bigley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bigley, 208 Holton street, became the bride of Julius Raymond Johnson, son of Mrs. Mary Johnson, 617 Arlington avenue, and the late John Johnson.

Rev. Fr. C. H. Becker officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Summer flowers beautified the church altar for the occasion.

The petite brunette bride wore a gown of pure silk bridal slipper satin, with a high neckline and sheer yoke of pure nylon net giving a low drop-shoulder effect. Two ruffles of imported French lace edged the yoke. The basque bodice was encircled by a three-tiered hoop skirt which was caught up in the front at four places with imported waxed orange blossom clusters to reveal six cascading ruffles of the French lace. The sleeves were leg-o-miston type with points at the wrists.

The train was bordered with the same lace, as was the veil of nylon net which was attached to an all-lace sweetheart bonnet, daintily trimmed with orange blossoms. The bride carried roses and a prayer book, topped with a Cattleya orchid and showered with stephanotis.

Miss Barbara Beckman was the maid of honor, wearing a white nylon marquisette. The bodice featured a drop-shoulder effect with a wide ruffle and basque waistline. The bouffant skirt had a wide ruffle at the bottom, and the back of the gown had cascading ruffles from the waist to the hemline.

Bridesmaids, the Misses Mary Ruth Bigley, sister of the bride; Jean Magee, Shirley Moraldi and Lucille Stie, were dressed identically to the maid of honor in gowns of mint green and yellow marquisette. The attendants carried colonial bouquets of roses and other summer flowers.

John Stoffick, Jr., served the groom as best man. Ushers were Leonard Johnson, brother of the groom; Don Frediani, Don Quarello and Vince Alfieri.

Special numbers were presented by the church organist, Miss Clare Duff.

A wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's parents. Dinner followed at a local dining room. The evening reception was held at the Ecclesian club with 300 guests present.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson left for a short trip to Conneaut Lake. They plan a longer wedding trip in July.

They will make their future home at 32 South Mercer street, apartment 4.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of New Castle high school with the class of 1949. Her husband was graduated from the same school with the class of 1945. He is employed at the Bossert company as an operator of an upsetter machine.

MISS LICOPANTIS

WEDS B. PERRETTI

A charming candlelight ceremony united in marriage Miss Delores Comissa Licopantis and Benjamin Samuel Perretti. Wedding vows were exchanged by the young couple with a host of relatives and friends witnessing the ceremony in the St. George Greek Orthodox church at 3 o'clock Sunday, June 25. Rev. S. Papanicolaou officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Licopantis of 1910 Hamilton street. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Perretti of 1914 Hamilton street. An orchestra entertained the house guests prior to the wedding.

The organist, Mrs. Rose Bender, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony, with the soloist, Angela Esposito, singing "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer," "Ave Maria," and "Because."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attractively attired in a white gown of Duchesse satin, featured with a sheer nylon net yoke which represented an off-shoulder effect edged with ruffles of Alencon lace. Her bouffant skirt was scalloped in redingote style with ruffles of the same lace on a cathedral train. She wore a gold cross given to her by her father and observed the custom of something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

A crown of Alencon lace topped with orange blossoms held her fingertip veil of sheer illusion. She carried a bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid.

Miss Lillian Misko of New Kensington, as her cousin's maid of honor, was attired in a gown of lime taffeta and marquisette. Lovely compliments of the ensemble were its off-shoulder effect neckline, fitted bodice and misty tapering into points at the wrists.

She wore a single strand of pearls. A band of Talisman roses in her hair and a bouquet of the same roses completed the picture.

Bridesmaid, Miss Sara Linz, was attired in a pink organdy frosted gown with pink nylon mitts, wore a band of pink roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink roses, while Miss Augusta Fiedler was attired in a yellow organdy frosted gown with yellow nylon mitts, wore a band of yellow roses in her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Albert Fortuna served the groom as best man. Ushering were Thomas Sanfilippo and Harry Herick of New Kensington, Pa.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served in the Castleton ballroom for 250 guests, with dinner music being provided by a local orchestra.

At 8 p. m., a reception was held for 500 guests in the Castleton ballroom, with appropriate music provided by another local orchestra.

Romberg Music On Pop Program

The program of the first pop concert of the New Castle Symphony orchestra with Anthony Casero conducting, to be given at Taggart stadium on Thursday, June 28, at 8:30, will include selections from Sigmund Romberg's operetta "Blossom Time" which is built around the life and music of Franz Schubert.

Sigmund Romberg is not only renowned for his sparkling operettas, but he is himself a perpetuator of the glorious Viennese waltz and operetta tradition that dates back to the time of Schubert and includes the Strausses and Franz Lehar. In the course of more than 30 years of music-making for American audiences, Romberg has through his music united in delectable fashion the best of old Vienna and the fresh spirit of the new world.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Symphony office, room 513, L. S. & T. building, and also at Fleming's Music Center, Donati Music Co., Hammond Music store and South Side Music Co.

In the event of rain the concert will be given the following night.

Silk stockings are said to have been first worn by Henry II of France in 1547.
